

Business Resilience Consulting Services – Planning & Design

Skills and expertise to help you increase the business value from your Power Systems investment

The built-in business continuity, resiliency and availability features in every IBM platform empower you to mitigate both scheduled and unscheduled outages and aid in disaster recovery.

Thousands of clients, in all industries segments, around the world continue to rely on IBM Resiliency solutions and services to keep them on-line and available.

For additional details on other services, please visit: <http://www.tlcpak.com/consulting.html>

Key Business Challenges – Unmanaged threat, as well as lost opportunities can be expensive. Flexibility in maintaining a continuous operational and business operations regardless of changes in your business and IT environments is critical. Implementing and maintaining a business continuity and resilience services can be challenging. Capitalizing in the right strategy with the appropriate cost stability between skills, tasks and process is the key to accomplishment. Our Resiliency Consulting Services offers flexible solutions for your organization to help you develop, implement and architect a resilience program tailored to your organizational requirements.

High availability is a key component of Business Resiliency. A robust, highly available application infrastructure is fundamental in the capability to deliver required service level agreements. The objective behind implementing a high availability solution is to provide near-continuous application availability through both planned and unplanned outages.

Services Highlights

- Helps you sustain critical operations in the event of a disruption by defining strategic business continuity, disaster recovery and crisis management plans.

- Designs a business requirement-based resilient architecture for your IT environment
- Helps you optimize the balance between your investments and the value of your business continuity program by providing plans and designs based on your unique needs
- Offers flexible and customizable solutions that matches to your specific needs

Business Resiliency Consulting Services –planning and design provides a high availability plan for your organization. Building on information gathered from an initial assessment of your current business continuity capabilities and risks, this service focuses on your specific business requirements. We help you design the program that you need to avoid and mitigate potential risks to your business

For addition information please contact:

Techlink Communications
111-B/Block-2
Suite 1A
Mezzanine Floor
Khalid-Bin-Waleed Road
Karachi-75400
Pakistan

info@tlcpak.com

www.tlcpak.com

An outsider's perspective can bring unexpected value to your organization